

Prudential RideLondon returns to Surrey Sunday 31 July

The world's greatest festival of cycling

Roads and bridges will be affected across Surrey and London.
This leaflet will help you understand how you can get around.

Event information for Surrey

Prudential RideLondon is the world's greatest festival of cycling with 100,000+ cyclists participating in events on traffic-free roads in London and Surrey. Events will take place in central London on Saturday 30 July 2016 and in London and Surrey on Sunday 31 July 2016.

Prudential RideLondon was developed by the Mayor of London, Transport for London and London & Partners in partnership with Surrey County Council in 2013 and is sponsored by Prudential. The event is managed by the London & Surrey Cycling Partnership.

This booklet contains important information to help you plan your travel around Surrey on Sunday 31 July.

Events on Sunday 31 July

- Prudential RideLondon-Surrey 100 – 26,000+ amateur cyclists will take on a 100-mile cycle challenge through the closed roads of London and Surrey before finishing on The Mall.
- Prudential RideLondon-Surrey 46 – a new 46-mile event following the existing 100 route in London with a short section in Surrey. The event is aimed at younger or less experienced cyclists.

- Prudential RideLondon-Surrey Classic – the world's best male cyclists will compete in this world-class race through London and Surrey. The race starts in central London before heading into Surrey and returning to London to finish on The Mall.

All three events start in London, travelling out of the capital into Surrey's stunning countryside before returning to London for an iconic finish on The Mall. The event routes through Surrey are on page eight.

Other Prudential RideLondon events

On Friday 29 July the Prudential RideLondon Grand Prix will see a series of BMX, handcycle and youth races take place at the Lee Valley VeloPark in east London.

On Saturday 30 July the Prudential RideLondon FreeCycle, Prudential RideLondon Classique and Brompton World Championship events take place in central London only (City of London and City of Westminster).

Road closures on Sunday 31 July

On Sunday 31 July there will be an impact on traffic in large parts of London and across Surrey. Roads used by the event will be closed so you'll need to plan your travel in advance.

The roads that make up the route in Surrey will begin to close from 05:00. This is to allow time for barriers to be installed, safety checks to be carried out and stewards and volunteers to get in place.

Temporary rolling road closures

Temporary rolling road closures will be used for the Prudential RideLondon-Surrey Classic wherever possible in Surrey to reduce the impact of road closures on residents and businesses. Once the last cyclist in the Prudential RideLondon-Surrey 100 has passed over Hampton Court Bridge, roads will begin to reopen, through to Forest Green.

Later in the afternoon, reopened sections of the route being used for the Prudential RideLondon-Surrey Classic professional race will be managed by rolling road closures. This involves using a motorcycle escort team to temporarily hold traffic while the race passes. This reduces the impact of road closures on residents and businesses.

On the rest of the roads used for the event route, it will not be possible to operate rolling road closures due to event timings and these roads will remain closed for the entire event period, with roads reopening as soon as it is safe to do so, after the Prudential RideLondon-Surrey Classic race has passed through.

Prudential RideLondon-Surrey Classic circuits

The professional race will undertake a series of circuits of the Surrey Hills. After passing along West Street and South Street in Dorking, first comes a southern circuit of Coldharbour Lane and Leith Hill, a single ascent of the highest point in Surrey.

After the descent from Leith Hill, the professionals make three circuits through Dorking High Street, Westhumble, Ranmore Common and Westcott. The race then travels back along Dorking High Street for a fourth and final time before heading towards Box Hill. In total the race passes through Dorking Town Centre five times.

Riders in the Prudential RideLondon-Surrey Classic will cycle up Box Hill once before they take on the final 25 miles of the race from Leatherhead via Oxshott and Esher.

Prudential RideLondon-Surrey 46

The Prudential RideLondon-Surrey 46 is a new event created specifically for younger or less experienced cyclists that would like a shorter challenge on traffic-free roads. The event follows the same route as the Prudential RideLondon-Surrey 100 for the first 27 miles then travels for two-miles along Hampton Court Way to the Scilly Isles, before re-joining the last 17 miles through London to the finish on The Mall.

The introduction of the 46 event will also allow slower riders in the Prudential RideLondon-Surrey 100 to take the shorter route. This means the closures from Hampton Court Bridge through to the A25 junction with Sherbourne Road, near Shere, will be reopened around 30-45 minutes earlier than in previous years.

Although roads will be closed to traffic, bicycles and event vehicles will be using the road during the closure period.
